

Religion and Domestic Violence

Information and Resources

BIBLIOGRAPHY

prepared by

National Resource Center on Domestic Violence

A project of the Pennsylvania Coalition Against Domestic Violence

6400 Flank Drive, Suite 1300

Harrisburg, Pennsylvania 17112

Tel: 800-537-2238 ■ TTY: 800-553-2508 ■ Fax: 717-545-9456

www.nrcdv.org ■ www.vawnet.org

Copyright 2007 National Resource Center on Domestic Violence (NRCDV)

The contents of this publication may be reprinted or adapted with the following acknowledgement: “This material was reprinted/adapted from the publication titled Religion and Domestic Violence: Information and Resources (2007) by the National Resource Center on Domestic Violence.”

BIBLIOGRAPHY

TRAINING MANUALS/CURRICULA

Advisory Committee on Social Witness Policy (2001). Turn Mourning into Dancing! A Policy Statement on Healing Domestic Violence and Study Guide. Louisville, KY: Office of the General Assembly, Presbyterian Distribution Services.

Ordering information: Presbyterian Distribution Services, 100 Witherspoon Street, Louisville, KY 40202-1396, phone (800) 524-2612, web <http://www.pcusa.org/oga/publications/dancing.pdf>

Anoka County Faith Community Peace Initiative (2000). Creating a Safe Place: Encourage to Change: Family Peacemaking Materials for Clergy, Lay Leaders, Staff & Laity. Anoka County, MN: Anoka County Faith Community Peace Initiative.

Retrieved June 2003 from: <http://www.mincava.umn.edu/papers/clergybook.asp>.

Center for the Prevention of Sexual and Domestic Violence (1995). Family Violence and Religion: An Interfaith Resource Guide. Volcano, CA: Volcano Press.

“An exceptional resource for clergy and community professionals to understand family violence and respond appropriately. Includes background information on domestic violence; guidelines for pastoral counseling to battered women; theological perspectives; discussion of elder abuse; and specific articles on domestic violence in African-American, Asian-American and Hispanic-American communities.” Ordering information: FaithTrust Institute, 2400 N 45th Street #10, Seattle, WA 98103, phone (206) 634-1903, fax (206) 634-0115, email info@faithtrustinstitute.org, web <http://www.faitrustinstitute.org/Store/index.htm> ; cost $29.95.

Delaplane, A. & Delaplane, D. (1996). Victims of Child Abuse, Domestic Violence, Elder Abuse, Rape, Robbery, Assault, and Violent Death: A Manual for Clergy and Congregations. Denver, CO: The Spiritual Dimension in Victim Services.

Ordering information: The Spiritual Dimension in Victim Services, P.O. Box 6736, Denver, CO 80206-0736, phone (303) 333-8810, fax (303) 333-8805, web <http://www.ojp.usdoj.gov/ovc/publications/infores/clergy/welcome.html>

Fortune, M.M. (1991). Violence in the Family: A Workshop Curriculum for Clergy and Other Helpers. Cleveland, OH: Pilgrim Press.

“For use in continuing education for clergy and in training secular helpers to address religious questions. Includes teaching and worship materials that can be duplicated.” Ordering information: FaithTrust Institute, 2400 N 45th Street #10, Seattle, WA 98103, phone (206) 634-1903, fax (206) 634-0115, email info@faithtrustinstitute.org, web <http://www.faithtrustinstitute.org/>; cost $25.00.

Ganley, A.L. & Schechter, S. (1995). Domestic Violence: A National Curriculum for Family Preservation Practitioners. San Francisco, CA: Family Violence Prevention Fund.

“This curriculum presents a comprehensive three-day training program on domestic violence for family preservation practitioners. Exercises and presentations are geared towards teaching family preservation practitioners how to identify domestic violence, assess lethality, develop safety plans for the adult victim and children, and intervene with the perpetrator.” Ordering information: Family Violence Prevention Fund, 383 Rhode Island St. Suite #304, San Francisco, CA 94103-5133, phone (415) 252-8900, fax (415) 252-8991, TTY (800) 595-4889, email ordering@fvpf.org, web <http://endabuse.org>.

Leonard, J.H. (1992). ToughTalk: Men Confronting Men Who Abuse. Louisville, KY: Curriculum Publishing, Presbyterian Church (USA).

“This set of five training designs will empower men to speak up about abuse as well as speak to those who are abusive.” Ordering information: Item #092003, Presbyterian Distribution Services, 100 Witherspoon Street, Louisville, KY 40202-1396, phone (800) 524-2612, web <http://www.pcusa.org/marketplace>

HANDBOOKS/ RESOURCE GUIDES/REPORTS

- Adams, C. & Fortune, M.M. (Eds.) (1996). Violence Against Women and Children: A Christian Theological Sourcebook. New York: The Continuum Publishing Group.
 “In more than 30 articles, this sourcebook suggests the possible future directions of theological education so that ministers and others will be adequately prepared to respond not only to the individual victim/survivor or perpetrator, but also address and change structural foundations of our churches, which have allowed the violence to go unchallenged for so long.” Ordering information: FaithTrust Institute, 2400 N 45th Street #10, Seattle, WA 98103, phone (206) 634-1903, fax (206) 634-0115, email info@faithtrustinstitute.org, web <http://www.faithtrustinstitute.org/>, cost $29.95.
- Fortune, M.M. (1995). Keeping the Faith: Guidance for Christian Women Facing Abuse. San Francisco, CA: Harper Collins.
 “This booklet is a concise response to common religious questions raised by victims/survivors of domestic violence and is a valuable resource for shelters, counselors, and pastors.” Ordering information: FaithTrust Institute, 2400 N 45th Street #10, Seattle, WA 98103, phone (206) 634-1903, fax (206) 634-0115, email info@faithtrustinstitute.org, web <http://www.faithtrustinstitute.org/>.
- Gardsbane, D. (Ed.) (2002). Embracing Justice: A Resource Guide for Rabbis on Domestic Abuse. Washington, DC: Jewish Women International.
 “Offers an in depth view of abuse in the Jewish community and includes sample sermons and text studies, tools for talking with victims and perpetrators, a comprehensive list of resources, safety planning for abused women, information on Agunot, and ideas for community response.” Ordering information: Jewish Women International, 2000 M Street NW, Suite 720, Washington DC 20036, phone (202) 857-1300 or (800) 343-2823, fax (202) 857-1380, email jkarotkin@jwi.org, web <http://www.jewishwomen.org>.
- Gardsbane, D. (Ed.) (2002). Healing and Wholeness: A Resource Guide on Domestic Abuse in the Jewish Community. Washington, DC: Jewish Women International.
 “Offers an in depth view of abuse in the Jewish community and includes sample sermons and text studies, tools for talking with victims and perpetrators, a comprehensive list of resources, safety planning for abused women, information on Agunot, and ideas for community response.” Ordering information: Jewish Women International, 2000 M Street NW, Suite 720, Washington DC 20036, phone (202) 857-1300 or (800) 343-2823, fax (202) 857-1380, email jkarotkin@jwi.org, web <http://www.jewishwomen.org>.
- Hefferman, K. & Mattessich, P.W. (1998). Initiative for Violence-Free Families and Communities: A Five Year Assessment. St. Paul, MN: Wilder Research Center.
 This is an evaluation of the first five years of a violence prevention initiative, implemented by Ramsey County, MN. The evaluation focuses on the initial and intermediate impacts of five separate action teams, including an Interfaith Action Team, and makes suggestions for improvement. The executive summary and full report can be accessed through the MINCAVA website at <http://www.mincava.umn.edu/>. More detailed information about the initiative can be found on the Ramsey County's website at http://www.co.ramsey.mn.us/ph/hb/violence_prevention.htm. Ordering information: Initiative for Violence-Free Families and Communities in Ramsey County, phone (651) 266-2404.

National Crime Prevention Council (2002). Changing Communities Through Faith Action. Washington, DC: National Crime Prevention Council.

“The first in a series, this publication reports on the Boston, MA, symposium held in April 2002 and is designed to help policy makers, faith leaders, funders, and community leaders understand why faith-based organizations need to be included in funding and policy conversations and the challenges that this presents. Also discusses how partnering among city agencies, law enforcement offices, and social service organizations has successfully addressed some of the community's toughest issues, including street violence. The report describes benefits to the community; the kinds of partnerships involved; how to start such partnerships; and the challenges, benefits, and results of such work.” Ordering information: National Crime Prevention Council, 1000 Connecticut Avenue, NW, 13th floor, Washington, DC 20036, phone (800) 627-2911, email webmaster@ncpc.org, web <http://www.ncpc.org>.

Pennsylvania Coalition Against Domestic Violence (2002). Helping Rural Battered Women and Their Children: A Guide for Faith Leaders and Religious Communities. Harrisburg, PA: Pennsylvania Coalition Against Domestic Violence.

Available for download at <http://www.pcadv.org/>.

Tri-State Rural Collaboration Project (1998). Clergy Booklet: A Booklet for Clergy and Congregations Addressing the Needs and Concerns Regarding Violence Against Women and Children in Rural and Remote Communities. Bismark, ND: Tri-State rural Collaboration Project.

The booklet is designed as a resource for clergy and congregations in rural and remote communities and includes suggestions for the church and others in ministries related to working with battered women, guidelines for clergy, crisis intervention information, what to do if she stays with the perpetrator and other resources. Ordering information: Red Flag Green Flag Resources, PO Box 2984, Fargo, ND 58108-2984, phone (800) 627-3675, web <http://www.redflaggreenflag.com/>.

United States Conference of Catholic Bishops, Inc (2002). When I Call for Help: A Pastoral Response to Domestic Violence Against Women. Washington, DC: United States Conference of Catholic Bishops, Inc. This booklet serves as an introduction to domestic violence for priests and other Catholic spiritual leaders as they help parishioners who are experiencing abuse. It includes an overview of the dynamics of domestic violence, scripture and church teachings that can be either a resource or a roadblock, tips for interventions, and additional resources. Available in English and Spanish. Ordering information: Secretariat for Family, Laity, Women & Youth, United States Conference of Catholic Bishops, 3211 4th Street, N.E., Washington, DC 20017-1194, phone (202) 541-3000, web www.usccb.org/laity.

BOOKS/JOURNALS/NEWSLETTERS

- Adams, C.J. (1994). Women Battering. Minneapolis, MN: Augsburg Fortress Press.
Written specifically for pastors and congregations involved in the pastoral care of domestic abuse survivors and perpetrators. Ordering information: Augsburg Fortress Press, PO Box 1209, Minneapolis, MN 55440-1209, phone (800) 328-4648, <http://www.augsburgbooks.com> and <http://www.augsburgfortress.org>.
- Bancroft, L. (2002). Why Does He Do That? Inside the Minds of Angry and Controlling Men. New York, NY: Putnam Publishing Group.
This book examines nine types of abusers, warning signs of a potentially abusive relationship, the control tactics of abusive men, how they get away with such behavior, the effects on children, and how to determine if an abusive man will change.
- Basham, B. & Lisherness, S. (Eds) (1997). Striking Terror No More: The Church Responds to Domestic Violence. Louisville, KY: Bridge Resources.
Written specifically to help the church find creative and faithful ways to address domestic violence within their congregations. It provides several essays dealing with the facts of domestic violence, suggestions for education and action, and resources including sermons and relevant biblical texts. Ordering information: Presbyterian Church, phone (800) 524-2612, web <http://www.pcusa.org/marketplace>.
- Beck, J.R. & Kroeger, C.C. (Ed) (1996). Women, Abuse, and the Bible: How Scripture Can Be Used to Hurt or Heal. Grand Rapids, MI: Baker Books.
This book addresses the misuse and misunderstanding of the Bible's teachings on headship and submission and discusses ways that the Bible can be used to heal. Ordering information: Baker Book House, P.O. Box 6287, Grand Rapids, MI 49516, phone (800) 877-2665, fax (800) 398-3111, web <http://www.bakerbooks.com/>.
- Cooper-White, P. (1995). The Cry of Tamar: Violence Against Women and the Church's Response. Minneapolis, MN: Augsburg Fortress Press.
This book explores the cultural context of power, the church's response to violence against women, and professional limitations for lay people providing intervention to victims of violence. It also assesses six different specific types of violence against women and emphasizes the need for collaboration. Ordering information: Augsburg Fortress Press, PO Box 1209, Minneapolis, MN 55440-1209, phone (800) 328-4648, web <http://www.augsburgbooks.com> and <http://www.augsburgfortress.org>
- Fortune, M.M. (1987). Keeping the Faith: Questions and Answers for Abused Women. San Francisco, CA: Harper San Francisco.
"This booklet is a concise response to common religious questions raised by victims/survivors of domestic violence and is a valuable resource for shelters, counselors, and pastors." Ordering information: FaithTrust Institute, 2400 N 45th Street #10, Seattle, WA 98103, phone (206) 634-1903, fax (206) 634-0115, email info@faithtrustinstitute.org, web <http://www.faitrustinstitute.org/>.

- Fortune, M.M. (Ed.). Journal of Religion & Abuse. Binghamton, NY: The Haworth Press Inc.
The journal brings broad coverage of physical and sexual abuse issues from a religious perspective in an international, interdisciplinary and inter-religious context. Ordering information: The Haworth Press Inc., 10 Alice Street, Binghamton, NY 13904, phone (800) 429-6784, web <http://www.HaworthPress.com/>.
- Khan, M.Z. (1980). Islam: Its Meaning for Modern Man. London: Routledge and Kegan Paul.
- Landesman, T. (2004). You Are Not Alone: Solace and Inspiration for Domestic Violence Survivors Based on Jewish Wisdom. Seattle, WA: FaithTrust Institute.
“This book [...] is an important resource for survivors, for future survivors, and for the Jewish community at large. If you are a survivor or future survivor, you will find words of wisdom and comfort, words of hope and solace. You will find practical information to help you understand your situation and to learn about some of your options and the resources available. If you are a concerned friend or rabbi, you will gain insight and understanding, and be helped in your desire to help others.” Ordering information: FaithTrust Institute, 2400 North 45th Street #10, Seattle, WA 98103, phone (206) 634-1903, fax (206) 634-0115, email info@faithtrustinstitute.org, web <http://www.faitrustinstitute.org/>.
- McClure, J. & Ramsey, N. (Eds.). (1998). Telling the Truth: Preaching Against Sexual and Domestic Violence. Cleveland, OH: United Church Press.
This book examines biblical and theological issues, pastoral resources, and preaching strategies for pastors and laity involved in providing ministry to victims and perpetrators of interpersonal violence. It also includes sermons to use as models in breaking the silence about abuse. Ordering information: United Church Press, 700 Prospect Avenue East, Cleveland, OH 44115-1100, phone 800-537-3394, web <http://www.ucpress.com/>.
- Miles, A. (2002). Violence in Families: What Every Christian Needs to Know. Minneapolis, MN: Augsburg Fortress Press.
The author addresses hidden dynamics of domestic violence among Christians; religious beliefs, teachings and traditions that work against battered women; teen dating and relationship violence and working as partners with other service providers. This is a 176-page publication with a foreword by the Reverend Doctor Marie Fortune, Director of The Faith Trust Institute. Ordering information: Augsburg Fortress Press, PO Box 1209, Minneapolis, MN 55440-1209, phone (800) 328-4648, web <http://www.augsburgfortress.org>.
- National Council of Jewish Women. StoP Watch: Strategies to Prevent Domestic Violence Newsletter. New York, NY: National Council of Jewish Women.
This newsletter is a “multi-pronged national initiative incorporating education, community actions, advocacy and training. StoP provides tools to educate yourself and others about the silent plague which affects us all.”
- Paymer, M. (2000). Violent No More: Helping Men End Domestic Abuse (2nd ed.). Alameda, CA: Hunter House.
This is the second edition of this book, authored by the Training Coordinator of the Duluth Domestic Abuse Intervention Project. This book is written for abusive men interested in examining the social roots of men’s violence against women and changing their controlling and abusive behavior.
- Poling, James N. (1991). The Abuse of Power: A Theological Problem. Nashville, TN: Abingdon Press.
“Pastoral care instruction and observation from a therapist of survivors of sexual abuse.” Ordering information: Abingdon Press, 201 Eighth Avenue South, P.O. Box 801, Nashville, TN 37202-0801, phone (800) 836-7802, web <http://www.abingdonpress.com/>.

ARTICLES/PAPERS

- Alkhateeb, S. (n.d.). Ending Domestic Violence in Muslim Families. Retrieved May 2003 from: <http://www.themodernreligion.com/index2.html>
- Bennett, L. & William, O. (2001). Controversies and Recent Studies of Batterer Intervention Program Effectiveness. VAWnet Applied Research Forum. Harrisburg, PA: National Resource Center on Domestic Violence.
- Cahill, S. & Jones, K.T. (2001). Leaving Our Children Behind: Welfare Reform and the Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual, and Transgender Community. New York, NY: Policy Institute, National Gay and Lesbian Task Force.
- Chrysler, E. & Milgrom, A. (1999). Why Couples Counseling May Be Inappropriate for Violent Relationships. Training and Research Update on Issues of Domestic Violence. Minneapolis, MN: Domestic Abuse Project.
- Davies, J. (1998). Safety Planning With Battered Women: Complex Lives/Difficult Choices. Thousand Oaks, CA: SAGE Publications.
- Edleson, J.L. & Tolman, R.M. (1995). Intervention for men who batter: A review of the research. In Stith & Straus (Eds.), Understanding Partner Violence: Prevalence, Causes, Consequences and Solutions (pp. 262-273). Minneapolis, MN: National Council on Family Relations.
- Edleson, J.L. (1995). Do Batterer's Program's Work? Minnesota Center Against Violence and Abuse. Retrieved July 2003 from: <http://www.mincava.umn.edu/documents/battrx/battrx.shtml>
- Eilts, M.N. (1995). Saving the family: When is the covenant broken? In Family Violence and Religion: An Interfaith Resource Guide. Volcano, CA: Volcano Press.
- FaithTrust Institute (2001). Working Together to Prevent Sexual and Domestic Violence, 2(4). Retrieved September 2003 from: <http://www.faithtrustinstitute.org/index.php?p=Newsletter&ts=68>
- Faizi, N. (2000). Domestic violence in Muslim communities. Texas Journal of Women and the Law, 10, 209-230.
- Fortune, M. (1991). A commentary on religious issues. In Fortune (Ed.), Violence in the Family: A Workshop Curriculum for Clergy and Other Helpers. Cleveland, OH: Pilgrim Press.
- Fortune, M. (1991). Ministry in response to violence in the family: Pastoral and prophetic. In Fortune (Ed.), Violence in the Family: A Workshop Curriculum for Clergy and Other Helpers. Cleveland, OH: Pilgrim Press.

- Fowler, L. (1999). Violence against women. Church & Society Magazine (September/October).
- Gibb, S.I. (2000). Transgender Pastoral Care. Retrieved July 2003 from: <http://www.uua.org/obgltc>
- Graetz, N. (1998). Judaism confronts wife-beating. Women in Judaism: A Multidisciplinary Journal, 1(2).
- Hassouneh-Phillips, D. (2001). Marriage is half faith, the rest is fear Allah: Marriage and spousal abuse among American Muslims. Violence Against Women, 7(8), 927-946.
- Hassouneh-Phillips, D. (2003). Strength and vulnerability: Spirituality in abused American Muslim women's lives. Issues in Mental Health Nursing, 24(6-7), 681-694.
- Jewish Community Help and Abuse Information (n.d.). Jewish Cultural Issues. Retrieved May 2003 from: http://www.chaicolorado.org/jewish_cultural_issues.htm
- Jewish Women International (1996). Resource Guide for Rabbis on Domestic Violence. Washington, DC: Author.
- Jilani, T. (1998). The many faces of domestic violence. The Muslim Magazine. Retrieved February 2005 from: http://www.kamilat.org/DV/many_faces.htm
- Khan, S. (n.d.). The verse of abuse or the abused verse. In Dimensions of the Qur'an. Los Angeles, CA: MVI Publications.
- Love, A. (2002). Life after "DV 101." The Black Church and Domestic Violence Institute, 2(1), 1-2.
- Muslim Women's League (1995). An Islamic Perspective on Violence Against Women. Retrieved May 2003 from: <http://www.mwusa.org/publications/positionpapers/violence.htm>
- National Council of Jewish Women (2003, April 11). National Council of Jewish Women Lauds Victory for Charitable Giving [press release]. Retrieved May 2003 from: <http://www.jcqw.org/html/News/PressReleases/030411/>
- Nelson, L.I. (2000). Spirituality and domestic violence: The role of the faith community in healing the wounds of domestic violence. In Assembling the Pieces: An African American Perspective on Family Violence, 2(1), 4-6.
- Presbyterian Church (USA) (1991). Study Paper on Family Violence. Louisville, KY: Office of the General Assembly.

- Rahim, H. (2000). Virtue, gender and the family: Reflections on religious texts in Islam and Hinduism. Journal of Social Distress and the Homeless, 9(3), 187-199.
- Sultan, R, (2002). Divorce in Islam. Retrieved June 2003 from:
http://www.zawaj.com/articles/divorce_reem_sultan.html
- Support Network for Battered Women (1999). Working with faith communities: Executive director's comments, one congregation's look at domestic violence. Lifeline: The Newsletter of the Support Network for Battered Women, 19(2).
- US Department of Health and Human Services (2005). Center for Faith-based and Community Initiatives: Grant Opportunities Notebook. Retrieved February 2005 from:
<http://www.hhs.gov/fbc/GrntNtbkINTRACTV2.pdf>
- US Department of Housing and Urban Development (2002). The role of faith-based organizations in the social services sector. Urban Research Monitor, 7(4).
- United Synagogue of Conservative Judaism (1995). Judaism and Domestic Violence [pamphlet]. New York, NY: Commission on Social Action and Public Policy, United Synagogue of Conservative Judaism.
- Vann, A. A. (2003). Developing Culturally-Relevant Responses to Domestic Abuse: Asha Family Services, Inc. Harrisburg, PA: National Resource Center on Domestic Violence.
- Weber, J. (1999) Domestic violence [special issue]. Safe Place News, Spring.
- White House Office of Faith-Based and Community Initiatives (2001). President Bush's Faith-Based and Community Initiative. Retrieved April 2003 from:
<http://www.whitehouse.gov/government/fbc/mission.html>.

