TRADITIONAL!

Sacred Circle, National Resource Center to End Violence Against Native Women's mission is to change individual and institutional beliefs that justify the oppression of Native women.

Sacred Circle is Dedicated to Actions that Promote the Sovereignty and Safety of Women.

Sacred Circle is a project of Cangleska, Inc. a private, non-profit, tribally chartered organization on the Pine Ridge Reservation in South Dakota. Located within the boundaries of the Oglala Lakota Nation, Cangleska, Inc. is a nationally recognized organization, providing domestic violence and sexual assault prevention/intervention services and facilitates the coordinated response to domestic violence and sexual assault for the Oglala Lakota Nation.

Sacred Circle's top priority is the development of Native shelters and advocacy programs, along with increasing community awareness and grassroots support to stop violence against Native women. Sacred Circle, located in Rapid City, South Dakota, provides training, technical assistance, policy development, materials and resource information regarding violence against Native women. Sacred Circle also has a Workshop Partnership Programs so we can come to your site to provide training.
